Kickin' Kids

Soccer Academy Teaches Techniques

By Nancy MacKenzie

Mariner Soccer Technical Director Ray Cabral is bringing a whole new approach to the Mariner Soccer Academy that may ultimately put the club at the top of its class. The new and improved program features a combination of European and American techniques allowing players to practice drills while engaging in a "short-play" format which reinforces skill building.

Another special feature of the program is that kids are individually assessed and receive "age-appropriate training so that each of them can develop a solid base," Mr. Cabral said, adding that "one size does not fit all" when it comes to training kids for the sport. Players are placed in small groups with 8 to 10 individuals in each group working with two instructors. This way each child can receive direct feedback from a coach.

Mr. Cabral is out on the field every day with the other certified and experienced trainers assessing the kids' development and needs. Each evening he writes up the next day's training plans based on the prior day's accomplishments.

"Today we moved some players around to meet

The next week-long training series starts on Monday, August 14 and there will be a walk-up registration day on August 18 for any player aged 7-14 who wishes to experience a day of the academy training. each kid's needs," he said on the second morning of the Academy, stressing that the goal is to give each kid a solid base.

Currently there are three college coaches, two high school coaches, and one MAPL (Massachusetts Parent League) coach assisting with the program. Mr. Cabral also brings in college-level players to help out.

Kids from surrounding towns including New Bedford, Acushnet, Lakeville, Mattapoissett and Marion are encouraged to participate. There are currently 68 players, ages 6 through 18, enrolled in the Academy. The second session starts on Monday, August 14 and Coach Cabral says he has room for more participants.

Sarah Bourque is the Assistant Women's Soccer Coach at University of Massachusetts Dartmouth. She is working with Mr. Cabral in the Academy this summer teaching 6-8 year olds. She grew up playing in the Mariner Soccer League and says that the training techniques used now are very different from when she was a kid.

"The kids are much more skilled now than when I was younger," Ms. Bourque said. "They have much more

Above: A baseball and history buff from Mattapoissett hopes to start up a "Vintage Base Ball" team here in the tri-town area, much like this Ohio-based Giants vintage base ball team decked out in 1920s-era uniforms. With a little luck and local support, Kyle DeCicco-Carey hopes to see similar uniforms worn by members of his newly-formed South Coast Vintage Base Ball Club.

Jeff Lombard is the girls' coach at ORR. He is also a key member of Coach Cabral's team. "Ray has us working on age-appropriate skills with the players," he said.
"The kids are playing games as they focus on the skills used in the game. The kids are working really hard, but they are having a lot of fun at the same time."

Jeremiah and Abby Adams, a brother and sister from Mattapoisett, said that "this is the best soccer camp they have ever been to."

"It's really fun and you get to learn a lot about

Nicholas Piva, also from Mattapoisett, explained that it is important to keep hydrated when playing. "We get to take a lot of breaks in between the lessons," he said.

Coach Cabral brings an impressive background in soccer to the game. He played for three years in England when he was in the service and also played in an amateur American league until he was 50. He is currently the head soccer coach at UMass Dartmouth, is a UMass Dartmouth Hall of Fame Inductee, and he engages in ongoing training and education to help him improve his ability to coach others.

"It's all for the love of the game," Coach Cabral said. "We want to make the Mariner program the benchmark for the state for the benefit of the players."

was introduced to vintage base ball (baseball originally being two words), and now he is bringing this "Gentleman's Sport" to southeastern Massachusetts.

Kyle, a Mattapoisett resident, was a member of the 1922 Giants in Marysville, Ohio when he first developed a love for vintage base ball. When he first moved to Massachusetts to continue his education at U Mass Dartmouth, Kyle was surprised at the absence of vintage base ball leagues in his area. Since Massachusetts was once the home to many old-time ball players, he decided to spark interest in the sport again by organizing his own group: the Southcoast Vintage Base Ball Club.

Among the major differences between vintage base ball and modern baseball is the equipment. In the 19th century, the ball was larger than modern baseballs, and the same ball was used throughout the entire game. For this reason, it would get worn and soft. The bats were slightly bigger than modern bats, and the wool uniforms included knickers.

It's still possible to see the remnants of the old style of dress in the uniforms of professional players today. As far as rules go, the umpire couldn't call a strike unless a player was purposely missing viable hits to delay the game. The umpire could solicit advice from the audience before making a call, and also retained the right to fine a player on the spot if his conduct was not "gentlemanly."

The tricky thing about recreating 19th century base ball is that the sport was still developing in the 1800s and early 1900s among amateurs, so the rules differed from region to region. Some leagues used larger, individually-fingered baseball gloves, while some leagues (usually earlier ones) didn't use gloves at all. Terms also differed greatly, such as the word for fans on the sideline, which were either called spectators or cranks depending on where the game was being played.

There were two different accepted sets of rules for playing base ball in the 19th century: the "New York Game" and the "Massachusetts Game." Since the Massachusetts game allowed throwing a ball at a running player to call an out, it was gradually phased out and replaced by the New York game, which is generally played by all vintage base ball clubs in the present.

In addition to the region discrepancy issue is the time period that vintage teams can play. Modern baseball didn't really solidify into the sport we know today until after the 1920s. Modern clubs playing vintage base ball mimic time periods anywhere from the 1840s (around the time of the New York Knickerbockers, the first-known organized base ball team) to the 1920s. For this reason, rules and terms can differ slightly among vintage base ball clubs. Some clubs prefer to blend the various rules of different time periods into one game. Others prefer to be strict about the time period in which they are playing.

Yet, there is one common thread that binds all these vintage players together: a fascination with a bygone era and the evolution of America's pastime.

So are you the type of person that would enjoy a vintage base ball league? Of course, an appreciation for baseball is a prerequisite for joining the Southcoast Vintage Base Ball Club, but Kyle is quick to point out that it is not necessary for potential league members to be athletic superstars. Vintage base ball players can be anyone from former Little League players to former professionals. In fact, men and women of all ages and abilities are encouraged to join, and volunteering can include just being a "crank." All you need is basic working knowledge of the old rules and some free time on the weekends from April to October. Besides players and volunteers, the Southcoast Vintage Base Ball Club is also looking for potential sponsors. A general interest meeting to discuss schedules, style, and equipment, will be held in autumn to assess interest in the league and to determine the time period that will best suit potential members.

If autumn is too far away, there is a variety of sources out there, both in print and on the internet, to teach you everything you want to know about vintage base ball. A couple of books that Kyle recommends are Before the Curse by Troy Soos, and Baseball in Blue and Grey by George B. Kirsch. For further information and for links to various resources, visit the Southcoast Vintage Base Ball website, www.scvbb.org. This site also contains a link to contact Kyle directly, and will eventually contain a schedule once the league has been organized and the season is underway.

Until then, see you cranks on the sidelines!

Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, August 8 at 6:00 pm by Chairman Jordan C. Collyer. Also present were Selectman Raymond H. Andrews, Selectman Stephen J. Lombard, Town Administrator Michael J. Botelho, and Assistant to the Town Administrator Melody Pacheco.

The board first approved the minutes of the July 25 meeting and then voted to change the parking signs located along Water Street from in front of Water Street Realty up to the Evans residence to read simply "No Parking."

According to Mr. Botelho, the signs currently allow for a 15-minute parking limit, but it has created problems with traffic flow along Water Street and with the lack of businesses within this area, it was felt no parking should be allowed along this side of the street. In consultation with Police Chief Mary Lyons, Mr. Botelho said they agreed to change the entire zone to "no parking," which the board unanimously approved.

At 6:02 pm the board continued the July 11 NStar hearing to request an easement across the Mattapoisett Public Library property to provide utility service to an adjacent residence and also to install two four-inch conduits to provide electrical service to the Mattapoisett Public Library.

Initially, members of the Mattapoisett Public Library Board of Trustees had requested four four-inch conduits, but after discussing this with NStar representatives, two would be more than sufficient.

"One easement is for the existing pole ... to provide service to 11 Barstow Street," added Donna Rosa of NStar. "That wire is going to be changed to be fed down Barstow Street."

Library Trustees had also previously questioned why the wires had to cross along their property and why they couldn't be buried underground or re-routed somehow.

Ms. Rosa said they came to compromise by running the wires along the north side of the library property near Cannon Street.

With that, the board unanimously voted to approve the easement along the north property line of the Mattapoisett Public Library land as recommended.

Under Discussion Items, the board voted to change their next regular Selectmen's meeting from August 22 to August 29, since Mr. Botelho will be on vacation during the week of August 21.

The board also discussed the position of District Veterans Agent Barry Denham, who was also elected earlier this year to the position of Mattapoisett Highway Surveyor. The board consulted with Town Counsel as to the potential conflict of interest with Mr. Denham's serving in both capacities and was advised it might constitute a "conflict of interest" under Massachusetts General Laws.

"There is a potential violation of (the state Conflict of Interest) Law," Selectman Andrews said. "So the board must sign an exemption and send it to the Veterans Council advising that there is no one else qualified to serve (in that position)."

To this end, Selectman Andrews said they must also advertise the Veterans Agent position and if no one else qualified applies for it, then Mr. Denham can retain the position under the exempt status.

"The (qualified) person needs to be a veteran as defined my Massachusetts General Law," Mr. Botelho said. "Anyone who has served active duty for at least 180 days."

In the interim, Mr. Denham has agreed to continue serving as the joint Mattapoisett/Rochester Veterans Agent, without compensation, until this matter is finally resolved.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Botelho discussed the Mooring Appeal Process in preparation for an upcoming hearing.

"The town permits private moorings in the harbor and Mattapoisett waters," Mr. Botelho said. "Mooring Permits are granted on a yearly basis ... they should be paid by April 1 and if they're not paid by June 1, then a final letter goes out."

Mr. Botelho said there were some 28 people who still didn't make payments by July and three of them have appealed the town's decision to revoke their mooring permits altogether. He suggested holding appeal hearings during their next regular Selectmen's meeting on Tuesday, August 29 for the three who have made the request, to which the board agreed.

Highway Surveyor Barry Denham also discussed plans to begin the North Street resurfacing project, which is set to start later this month.

"We had discussed using the grindings (from North Street) down on Brandt Island Road," Mr. Denham said. "I really don't want to see that happen. First, we don't have the proper equipment to spread it ... and the road needs to be surveyed (and) cut down before three inches is added."

Mr. Denham said he is working with Field Engineering to properly pave the road instead of using the leftover asphalt grindings. "To make it a suitable roadway, it needs to be seal-coated, and I don't have money in my budget to (cover) that," he said.

Mr. Denham suggested stockpiling the grindings from North Street at the landfill in the meantime for future use, as they do have potential value.

"The best thing is to use Chapter 90 money and ... realign (Brandt Island Road) and get it back to where it belongs," Mr. Denham said.

In other matters, the board also voted to approve a request from the Mattapoissett Congregational Church to hold their "Homecoming Sunday" service on September 10 at 10:00 am at Ned's Point with a family picnic to follow.

There being no further matters to discuss in Open Session, the board unanimously voted to go into Executive Session at 7:40 pm to discuss pending litigation matters. They would thereafter adjourn for the evening.

The board first approved the minutes of the July 31 meeting and then signed and approved an Employee Action Form for Town Counsel Blair Bailey, who had previously been appointed and hired as official Town Counsel for the Town of Rochester.

The board also noted receipt of payment from SEMASS in lieu of taxes in the amount of $276,163 for some 96,089 tons of refuse collected during the month of July 2006.

Under outgoing correspondence, Mr. Huntoon also sent a letter to fellow Town Administrator Michael Botelho of Mattapoisett regarding the status of District Director of Veterans Services Barry Denham, who is also employed as Mattapoisett's Highway Surveyor and was

Intestinal Parasites

My vet told me that my dog has whipworms. I never saw any worms in his stool. Where did he get these worms and are they dangerous?

Ultimately your dog got roundworms, hookworms or whipworms from ingesting worm eggs that were present in the stool of another dog or in the case of roundworms he may have gotten his infection from his mother. Over a period of time a dogs stool disintegrates in the environment leaving resistant worm eggs in the dirt. When your dog sniffs the dirt he may inhale and swallow some eggs or he may become infected by walking on the eggs and then licking his feet. Tapeworms tend to be transmitted by eating uncooked affected meat but most commonly are spread by fleas. Roundworms look spaghetti, tapeworms look like rice and hook and whipworms are very small and not usually seen.

Roundworms, hookworms and tapeworms can cause disease in people, especially very young or old people and therefore it is important to have your pets stool checked at least once a year by your veterinarian.

recently charged with operating under the influence. Mr. Huntton expressed concern over any action taken regarding Mr. Denham's position as joint Veterans Agent without the input or involvement of Rochester officials.

"It is my understanding that Mattapoissett has some issues regarding the continued employment of the current District Director of Veterans Services," Mr. Huntton wrote. "I respectfully request that the Mattapoissett Board of Selectmen keep the Town of Rochester informed of any issues that may arise regarding either the Agreement or the District Director. It is my belief that any unilateral action is not in keeping with the spirit of the Agreement and the relationship between the towns."

Chairman Morse next asked about available transportation for Rochester students to the Bristol County Agricultural High School (Bristol Aggie), for which the town had previously made the arrangements. Since the town's senior bus is no longer available, they need to ensure that the students are provided with proper transportation.

"Unfortunately, it's a school issue and we just picked up the slack (two years ago)," Mr. Huntton said. "Now we don't have transportation with the senior bus (out of commission) ... we have three, maybe four students (from Rochester)."

"The Board of Selectmen is not happy taking on this responsibility," Selectman McGaffey agreed.

"We'll have a solution by next Monday night,"

Chairman Morse said.

The board next received a letter of resignation from Norene Hartley, who stepped down from her position as Assistant to the Conservation Agent, effective August 1. The board agreed to send a letter of appreciation to Ms. Hartley for her past service to the town and accepted her resignation with regret.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Huntoon advised that representatives from the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) came to inspect the Rochester Police Station last week since the facility was partially funded through a USDA Loan. "They were very impressed with (the facility)," Mr. Huntoon said.

At 7:05 pm the board met with members of the Personnel Board to discuss the recent study conducted by Taber Associates relative to the "charge to the Personnel Board" and the town's Compensation Plan. That study recommended a clarification of the role of the Personnel Board within the town hierarchy.

"The first thing we want to know is where do (the Selectmen) want to go with the Personnel Board?" asked Personnel Board Chairman Paul Hughes.

"Somehow we need to fix the Compensation Plan ... we definitely have a problem with it," Chairman Morse said. "I don't think adding more steps is the answer. I think we can come up with a better answer. The reason (we added all the steps) was to bring our employees up to par with other (town) employees. I think right in the Town Hall we have enough people capable of doing it ... without going to Taber (Associates) again."

"I'm sure every department head could point to specific jobs in their department which don't fit (their job descriptions)," Selectman McGaffey said.

"Our board is going to continue to march, with direction from (the Board of Selectmen)," Mr. Hughes said, finally. "We weren't sure of our status ... (but we) feel you should have a (Personnel) Board."

Mr. Hughes added they also have concerns over the existing Compensation Plan.

"There's enough data out there so we should be able to do this (in-house)," Mr. Huntoon said.

ATTENTION DRIVERS

If you are involved in a collision you have the right to have your investment, your vehicle, repaired at a shop of your choice. Your insurance company may suggest a list of repair shops. Do not be persuaded by this list, it is not a guarantee of quality of services, nor does it limit your options. You want a shop who will work for you and with you to put your vehicle back to pre-accident condition. COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. is a licensed, bonded, registered repair shop with the state of Massachusetts. We work with all insurance companies to expedite your repairs. The important thing to remember is we repair the vehicle for you, our customers, not the insurance companies. So remember, if the need arises, contact COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. to get back on the road.

Board revise and rework the Compensation Plan and present it to the Board of Selectmen so it may be approved via Town Meeting.

"We keep getting accused of pulling people off the Compensation Plan," Chairman Morse said. "It really needs to be reworked."

"I'm always concerned when you start talking about a Compensation Plan, you're talking about more money for someone ... which affects the whole town," Selectman McGaffey said. "The problem with the steps is everyone gets maxed out sooner or later."

"This Compensation Plan was done in 2001 ... so we're working with 2001 cost of living (COLA) numbers," Mr. Huntoon said.

The Personnel Board agreed to meet with Selectman McGaffey to begin revising the Compensation Plan in the hopes of getting it approved at a future Town Meeting.

The board next met with members of the ORR School Committee to consider the appointment of Peter Bangs to fill a vacancy on the ORR School Committee. The joint boards unanimously voted to appoint Mr. Bangs to fill out the vacant term through the next Annual Town Election in April 2007.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 7:30 pm.

Rochester Road Race

A group of Rochester residents is finalizing plans for the first annual Rochester Road Race sponsored by Covanta SEMASS. This 5K (3.1-mile) event will kick off on Saturday, August 12 at 9:00 am and is open to runners and walkers of all abilities.

"We want this to be a fun community event that everybody can be a part of," said Kevin Cassidy, one of the race's organizers. "We've made it open to runners and walkers of all ages and are providing T-shirts for runners, a Red Sox raffle, awards for top finishers, refreshments and goodie bags."

The race culminates months of planning and coordination on the part of Kevin Cassidy, Chuck Kantner, Scott Muller, Jeff Perry and Travis VanHall — all Rochester residents who regularly run in other local road races.

"The event is over in less than an hour, but the planning takes almost a year," noted Chuck Kantner.
"Race day needs to be coordinated with local police, Mass Highway, the Board of Selectmen, US Track and Field, not to mention publicity, race day volunteers, T-shirts, awards, and refreshments." The group has been told that the groundwork laid in the first year is by far the hardest.

Though not affiliated with the Rochester's Country Fair, the race was timed to provide a kick-off to fair week. "With all the events going on during the Fair, we couldn't hold it at the same time, but we did want to keep the fun, down-home feeling that the Rochester Fair generates," said Travis VanHall of the race committee.

The race organizers have incorporated as a non-profit organization and any net profit from this year's race will be donated to the athletics program at Old Rochester Regional High School. Funding for the race is generated primarily through sponsorships, with Convanta SEMASS in Rochester providing title sponsorship, as well as race entry fees. "We appreciate the generous support of all our sponsors," said Jeff Perry.

Entry forms can be picked up now at the Plumb Memorial Library and Bev Loves Books in Rochester and the Wareham YMCA or entries can be processed online at www.jbrace.com. Runners and walkers can also sign up the day of the race at 8:00 am.

The race will start on Dexter Lane, continue down Mary's Pond Road to Walnut Plain, and turn left on Clapp Road. A water stop will be set up on Clapp Road at the halfway point. Runners will turn left onto Mendell Road, then make another left onto Rounseville Road, finishing on the church green in the center of town.

"Part of the fun of these events is community participation," said Scott Muller, one of the race's organizers. "Even if they aren't participating, Rochester residents can

The coaches will help the player to continue to develop his or her own strengths and work on overcoming the weaker areas of his or her game. This program will give each player a solid base on which they can build their game. Individual technique will be stressed each session. A small-sided game format will also be utilized to help players to develop insight by reading the game as they develop their technique.

Bird Island Challenge

The Fourth Annual Bird Island Kayak Challenge will take place at the Gleason Family YMCA in Wareham on Sunday, August 13. The start of the race begins from the Narrows in downtown Wareham. Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

There is a new and useful web site — www.maseniorinfo.com — presenting senior resources, benefits, programs, financial aid, physical conditions, veteran benefits and desired information. This information becomes vital when considering that the above 60 population is growing faster than any other segment. With people living longer, increases the demand where more products and services are required to maintain a dignified standard of living. Many middle aged adults now become responsible for the care taking of their frail parents. Usually this occurs unanticipated creating a quick need of information and assistance at a high stress time. Other than (this website), there isn't one location that has the full range of resources.

Let us now see what types of information the website reveals. First, the website can assist both upper and lower income individuals. For the lower income, there are Federal and State Agencies that have social programs to assist the financially distressed. Second, if you are concerned about benefits there are hyperlinks to Medicare, Medicaid, Social Security and other benefits and social programs available to both the elderly and the disabled. Third, many physical conditions that affect the elderly appear on the website. These include Alzheimer's disease, ALS, Cancer, blindness, Arthritis, Diabetes, Stroke, Parkinson disease and many others. Lastly, under general information there is a hyperlink for crimes and scams that play upon elderly. Other topics include reverse mortgages, long-term insurance, elderly games, elderly work programs, elderly education and there are many more. Moreover, there are listings of private companies that provide either products or services to the elderly.

The website is well worth viewing because this is the most comprehensive listing of senior information. The website is continuously adding information so log on from time to time to stay informed.

Sincerely,
Angelo Borino

Water Legislation Adopted

State Representative William M. Straus (D-Mattapoisett) announced recently that the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the State Senate gave final approval to a bill that will allow the Towns of Fairhaven, Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester to convey a well field and water supply lands to the Mattapoisett River Valley Water District.

The District, which was approved by the Legislature in 2004 with legislation filed by Representative Straus, was created to oversee the sharing of water supply resources between the four towns with the intent to provide a sustainable, cost-effective and safe water supply for the future.

This legislation will allow the Mattapoisett River Valley Water District to obtain the necessary lands for a new treatment facility that will provide connections between the four towns to allow for the efficient transfer of drinking water. The facility will help the towns to meet the future water demands without developing additional sources and the District will be responsible for operation and maintenance of the treatment facility and pipelines.

"I'm optimistic that the Governor will sign the bill into law," Representative Straus said. "The sharing of resources among the towns is a proactive approach that will ensure our water supply will be sustainable for many years to come. The local officials in the towns are to be commended for their foresight."

The legislation was filed at the State House by Representative Straus and Senators Mark Montigny, Marc Pacheco, and Joan Menard. The bill will now be sent to the Governor for his approval before becoming law.

Soccer Field of Dreams

With soccer's World Cup fresh in the memories of soccer enthusiasts from throughout the SouthCoast region, local area youth are finding increased opportunities to develop their soccer skills at the Mariner Youth Soccer complex in Fairhaven. At a time when many clubs are struggling to find adequate space for their teams to practice and host games, the Mariner Youth Soccer Club continues to boast the largest soccer complex in the SouthCoast. And, they're still growing!

In existence since 1978 and operated by a volunteer staff and board of directors, Mariner currently maintains over 130 acres of land and playing fields behind Lifestyles Plaza on Route 6 in Fairhaven. The land was bought in 2002 for $2,250,000, with a donation of $900,000 bringing the club's cost of acquiring the land down to $1,350,000. With a goal of eliminating the entire remaining debt so it could devote all its resources to the youth it serves, Mariner paid off an additional $700,000 in 2004 after selling off some of the unused land.

The club is currently pursuing another deal to sell 50 additional acres located well behind the soccer fields for $1,200,000. This will allow the club to eliminate its entire debt without impacting the field space it currently manages. This will leave Mariner with a large complex of over 80 acres of playing fields, and still more room to expand. According to the club's president, Al Cordeiro, "With the sale of the unused land, we're very pleased that we'll be able to avoid any impact to the fields we're currently managing. Our intent is to restrict the deed of the remaining land for recreational use only therefore restricting the future use of the land. Our primary goal is to give children from throughout the SouthCoast the opportunity to play soccer on the best possible fields at affordable rates."

And, there's more good news ahead for the local youth soccer players who call Mariner home. Future plans include the construction of a state-of-the-art turf field. This will allow Mariner teams to practice and host games during inclement weather. Additionally, over the past three years, Mariner has expanded its travel team offerings to the premier-level by initiating a MAPLE (Massachusetts Premier League) program. This has allowed Mariner to better serve the children by offering the highest possible levels of competitive and developmental soccer. With fall recreational programs, spring SouthCoast League (SCSL) travel teams and MAPLE teams, Mariner has made it possible for every child to play at a level that he or she is comfortable with.

In order to remain competitive with other leading soccer clubs, Mariner also hired a high-level coach, Ray Cabral, as its Technical Director. Mr. Cabral holds coaching licenses and diplomas from the United States Soccer Federation (USSF), the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) and the KNVB (Dutch) soccer federation. He also has a distinguished coaching resume that includes leading the UMass Women's soccer team to the NCAA finals.

In addition to his Mariner duties, Mr. Cabral is also the head coach of UMass Dartmouth Men's team and is a Senior Instructor for the Massachusetts Youth Soccer Association. Since he started working with the Mariner program last year, he has been very active in working with Mariner's recreational programs, its SCSL travel teams, and the MAPLE program. He also started the Mariner Soccer Academy, which included a highly successful summer camp in late July. The academy has attracted many top college and high school coaches to help instruct the children. The Mariner Soccer Club was also proud to provide some of the over 60 youth in attendance with free camp scholarships. The Mariner scholarship program helps ensure that less fortunate kids who have a passion for the beautiful game have a chance to participate and further develop their soccer skills.

While the Mariner Youth Soccer Club has come a long way since it was formed 28 years ago, the volunteers who help run the club are even more optimistic about what the future holds. "Our primary goal is to continue to best utilize this wonderful soccer complex on behalf of the youth in the SouthCoast Region," said Mr. Cordeiro. "In doing so, we're also helping to preserve valuable open space. And, you never know, the next potential World

Rochester Photos Wanted

The Rochester Country Fair is almost here ... and this year the fair organizers are planning a "From the Attic" Photo Exhibit. They are looking for photos from Rochester taken years ago. Enter pictures of young ancestors, grandparents or parents as children, places that no longer exist, places that still exist after all these years, scenes of Rochester long ago, and similar windows into the past. For obvious reasons, you need not have taken the photo, but you can include the photographer's name, if known. Also, it would be interesting if you can include any details about the photo's origin or history.

Enter even if you are unsure of the origin or year taken — 20, 30, 40 or 50-plus years ago! Entry forms for the photo exhibit can be filled out at Bev Loves Books in the Plumb Corner Mall in Rochester, and you can just drop off the photos at Bev Loves Books. These photos should be framed for display and need to be submitted by August 15. Help celebrate Rochester's history and share with residents, old and new, the memories of the past.

The Country Fair is also having a special contest called "Then and Now." Enter pictures of people or places in Rochester from years ago and submit a recent photo depicting the way they look now. This should be fun and memorable. Cash prizes will be presented at the fair. Photos for the contest can also be dropped off at Bev Loves Books in Rochester. Forms and rules can be printed from the website at www.rochesterma.com.

For details or more information, please call Carol Grime (508-763-3258). Pick up of pictures is also available. If you need help framing the photos, please give Carol a call.

Mattapoisett Birthday Stickers

Appointed by the Board of Selectmen, the Mattapoisett Historical Commission works to recognize and to help preserve the town's unique history. It is this historical legacy that has kept Mattapoisett sailing smoothly over the past 150 years.

To further support their mission, the Commission designed a bumper sticker that echoes this theme. It was created early on to also help a townwide 150th/Sesquicentennial Planning Committee build interest and support for the upcoming celebration now in the planning stage for August, 2007.

These stickers may be purchased at various locations, including the Town Clerk's Office, the Historical Society Museum, the Council on Aging (COA) Senior Center and from members of the Commission. The $2 donation helps finance the Commission's grand "Birthday

Onset Blues Festival

Celebrated blues guitarist and 2006 Blues Music Award nominee Magic Slim will bring his legendary Mississippi-to-Chicago blues style to the Onset Blues Festival on Saturday, August 19. Fans of the blues will recognize his electrified sound as one which spawned much of the music played by modern blues artists and rockers. He will headline the afternoon portion of the newly expanded Onset Blues Festival that takes place in the heart of Onset Village throughout the day.

Backed by his band, the Teardrops, Magic Slim cuts into his repertoire in fiery fashion, laying his booming vocals over it all. Slim has an encyclopedic repertoire of hundreds of blues songs in his head, giving the live shows a charming impromptu quality. Blues Revue describes his shows this way, "Each Teardrops performance is underpinned by a massive groove — irresistibly punishing shuffles, slow numbers drawn from deep in the heart of the blues. Slim's singing is commanding yet nuanced; his huge, earthy, wet voice is one of the best in the genre."

Their recently released live CD Anything Can Happen captured the essence of that energy and was nominated for a Blues Music Award (formerly the W. C. Handy Blues Award) in the 2006 Album of the Year category.

There are rumors that, following the afternoon set, Magic Slim will likely sit in on select night sessions of the Onset Blues Festival which take place at venues throughout the village for the first time this year. It will be totally impromptu but typical of Magic Slim's way of making the rounds at the festivals he performs.

The festival gets underway when craft and food vendors begin sales at Prospect Park at 9:00 am. Many attendees come early and spread their blankets on the lawn for the daytime concerts that begin at 11:30 am in the Gregerman Band Shell amphitheater. In addition to Magic Slim & The Teardrops other featured concert performances throughout the afternoon include blues greats, Ricky "King" Russell & The Cadillac Horns and Lisa Marie & All Shook Up with opening sets by Blu Lobsta and The Moondance Blues Band.

But what's new this year are the 'Blues in the Evening' shows at venues throughout the village. At 6:30 pm the music continues at the Harbor Watch Inn with

MOVIE REVIEW

Cave Dwellers

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

The Descent. Starring Shauna Macdonald and Natalie Mendoza. Directed by Neil Marshall. Running time: 99 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

The Descent, a mercilessly effective horror film from Britain, is not a movie I'd recommend to claustrophobics. Or maybe I would, if I were feeling sadistic. After all, it is a horror movie, and when we go to a horror movie we expect to feel emotions like, y'know, horror. Usually we don't. This time we do. Written and directed by Neil Marshall, who made the well-liked werewolf film Dog Soldiers in 2002, The Descent arrives with all sorts of advance hype about how nerve-wracking and gut-wrenching it is, and for once a movie earns its buzz. Once it gets going, it shakes you and keeps shaking you.

Six young women of various nationalities get together to explore a cave in the Appalachians. One of them, Sarah (Shauna Macdonald), endured a tragedy one year ago, and the other women hope to get her mind off things and surround her with support and excitement. The ringleader is Juno (Natalie Mendoza), who's somewhat arrogant about the great adventurer she is, or pretends to be; she even has an apprentice of sorts, the spiky-haired wild card Holly (Nora-Jane Noone, from The Magdalene Sisters). Rounding out the sextet are compassionate Beth (Alex Reid), climbing expert Rebecca (Saskia Mulder), and med student Sam (MyAnna Buring). As it happens, everyone ends up grateful to have a med student along.

About two miles down, a cave-in blocks the women's way out, and they have to find or make another exit. Between this movie and World Trade Center, being buried alive seems to be the en vogue terror of the month. That would be traumatic in itself, but Marshall ups the ante with subterranean cannibals who live in the cave and presumably subsist on would-be explorers. They look like a bunch of Gollums, though the credits identify them as "crawlers." The monsters are a slight letdown — the make-up on them doesn't always fool the eye — but the way the first of them is fully introduced to the group is a memorably chilling image.

The Descent has two different endings depending on what country you see it in; we in America are getting a slightly shorter version, whereas the Brit edition is bleaker and brings back Sarah's frequent birthday-cake vision for one last hurrah. I've seen both, and the American ending (approved by the director, who wanted to see how this alternate finish would fly with a different audience) is, in its way, more disturbing. Either way would be a proper way to seal off a film that plays for keeps and isn't afraid to turn its likable, strong characters into moral weaklings who will do what they must to survive.

Indeed, the true horror of the movie — especially its one indisputably shocking moment — lies not in crawling, squealing Gollums but in the film's certainty that even these smart, well-prepared women can be undone by their own flaws. The women are drawn swiftly yet definitively; nobody acts out of character, and so we don't roll our eyes at rash or ill-advised actions that, in a lesser movie, would simply strike us as stupid. The Descent isn't an exercise in unmotivated sadism like last year's Wolf Creek, the previous heavily-hyped horror import. That film wanted to be a gnarly endurance test but came off as callow showmanship — like a ten-year-old boy, it wanted to wow you with how grotesque it could be. The Descent is an endurance test, too, but it gives you something worth enduring, and — for some, I'm sure — just barely endurable. Even the sequences of no particular menace, when the women are squeezing themselves through the tight nooks and crannies of that godforsaken cave, press down hard on your chest. I didn't go into The Descent particularly claustrophobic, but I think I might be now.

Pantry Needs Donations

When the summer months begin, children home from school are no longer able to depend on school breakfasts and lunches. The working families of these children, struggling financially, turn to the Shepherd's Pantry for food.

"Donations to the Pantry have fallen off lately," said Pantry Administrator Blanche Pepin. Without the benefit of postal and school food drives to stock the Pantry shelves, financial aid is needed to purchase non-perishable items that fill food bags distributed each Saturday morning at the Long Plain United Methodist Church in Acushnet.

"We do need donors who give faithfully every month or even more often," Ms. Pepin said. "Perhaps $20 or $25 once a month does not seem to be very much, but if we continue to receive checks like that from enough people, we would have the funds to help us through the summer months and into the fall. Please consider a small donation on a regular basis."

Tax deductible checks can be made out to the Shepherd's Pantry and sent to the Pantry, P.O.Box 760, Fairhaven, MA 02719.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A more harmonious aspect favors all relationships. Family ties with mates and children are strengthened. Libra is Cupid's choice to win the amorous Aries' heart.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The bold Bull is ready to take on fresh challenges. Expect some opposition as you plow new ground -- but supporters will outnumber detractors.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) An upcoming job change could mean uprooting your family to a far-distant location. Weigh all considerations carefully before making a decision one way or the other.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A long-standing problem is resolved by a mutually agreed upon compromise. You can now focus on getting the facts you'll need for a decision you'll soon be asked to make.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat needs to be wary of what appears to be a golden investment opportunity. That "sure thing" could turn out to be nothing more than a sack of Kitty Glitter.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You give of yourself generously to help others, but right now you must allow people to help you. Confide your problems to family and trusted friends.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Relationships benefit from a strong harmonious aspect. Things go more smoothly at work. Someone you thought you'd never see again asks for a reconciliation.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A minor distraction interferes with travel plans, but the delay is temporary. Meanwhile, expect to play peacemaker once again for feuding family members.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Keep that positive momentum going on the home front. Arrange your schedule to spend more time with your family. You'll soon have news about that job change.

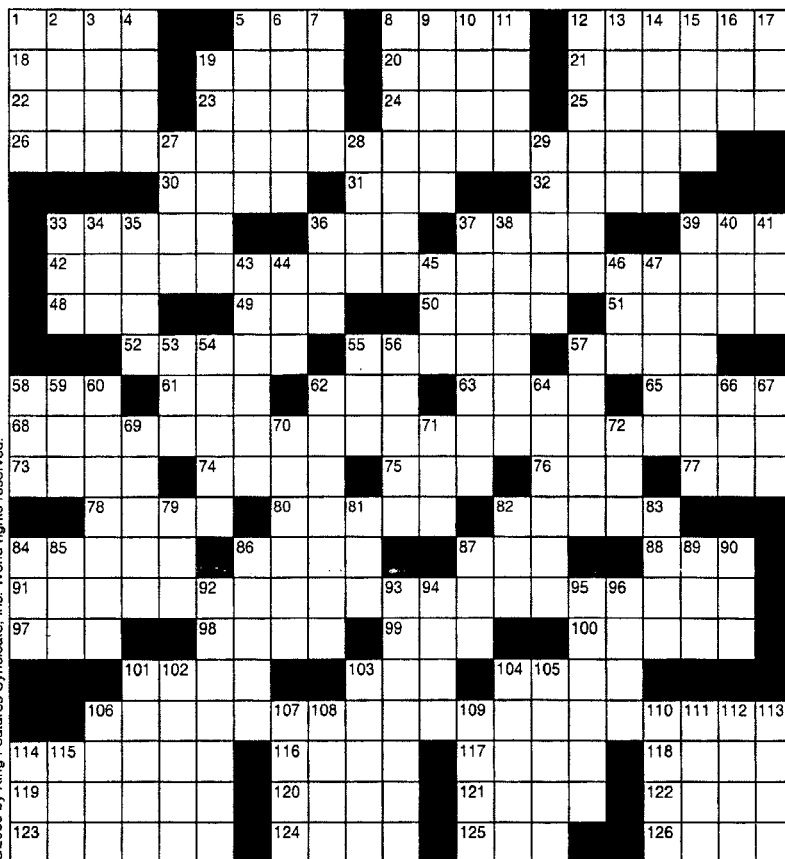

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Control that possessive tendency that sometimes goads you into an unnecessary display of jealousy. You could be creating problems where none currently exist.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A new project holds some challenges you hadn't expected. But don't be discouraged; you'll find you're more prepared to deal with them than you realized.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Yours is the sign of the celestial Chemist, so don't be surprised if you experience a pleasant "chemistry" betwixt yourself and that new Leo in your life.

BORN THIS WEEK: You enjoy being fussed over, as befits your "royal" Leonine nature. You also have a strong loyalty to family and friends.
